

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

ONE: ISABELLA MISSES HER SELF

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer.

Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette

Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a pro minent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. In cluding The Rovy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt,

Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Amat, Suhaila

Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance

Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her home work or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing with

Isabella mis

her friends.

ses her Self

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S. Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing musical instruments, and watching her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S. Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S. Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhla and Antoinette, prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan, Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherazade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S. Isabella is in 3rd grade and when she is not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing video games with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

TWO: ISABELLA DANCES

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer.

Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a pro minent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. In cluding The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt,

Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella

has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila

Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance

Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework

work or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she

enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, marital arts, gymnastics, and

playing with

her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and

Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila

prominent belly dancers Jam

Awayshak Khoury. Her

also dance are generat

great great grandfather was an were artists of Middle Eastern minent Oud player and drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on

had performed in

Japan and all across

cluding The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six

times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt,

Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella

has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Shehrezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila

Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance

Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when she works or a student at she enjoys jazz, hip hop, t he San Francisco Ballet, she in art, theater, gymnastics, and playing with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer.

Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila

Salimpour and granddaughter of

prominent belly dancers Jam Awayshak Khoury. Her
and dance are generat
great great grandfather was an

roots ional on Oud ma
Music.

ila Salimpour and Antoinette in Middle Eastern music both sides. Isabella's ker and both of her grandfathers

were artists of Middle Eastern
minent Oud player and drummer. Isabella began performing

Ardeshir Salimpour

was a Middle Eastern at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in

Japan and all across the United States. In cluding The Roxy and House of

Blues in Hollywood

Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella

has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherazade, Bal Anat, Suhaila

Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance

Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be

seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet school, enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance,

marital arts, gymnastics, and

playing with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and

is a third generation belly dancer.

Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila

Salimpour and granddaughter of

prominent belly dancers Jam

ila Salimpour and Antoinette

Awaysbak Khoury. Her roots are generat ional on in Middle Eastern music and dance are generat

both sides. Isabella's

great great grandfather was an Oud ma ker and both of her grandfathers

were artists of Middle Eastern Music.

Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a pro minent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern

drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in

Japan and all across

the United States. In

cluding The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six

times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila

Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance

Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be

seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, ballet, and

marital arts, gymnastics, and

playing with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer.

Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Aways Shak Khoury. Her roots are in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella

has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila

Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing video games with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

THREE: ISABELLA IS HER SELF

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jam Awayshak Khoury. Her roots and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S. Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing with her friends.

ISABELLA IS HER SELF

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhla and dance are generated from both sides. Isabella's prominent belly dancers Jam Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan, Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S. Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhla and Jamia Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamia Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khoury. Her roots are in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan, Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S. Isabella is in 3rd grade and when she is not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing video games with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

FOUR: ISABELLA IS HER OWN MOTHER AND FATHER

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhla Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S. Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, and gymnastics, and playing with her friends.

isabella is her own mother and father.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhla Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. In cluding The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing netball with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer.

Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette

Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's

great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance

Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and

playing with her friends.

with her friends.

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

FIVE: ISABELLA LOVES HER SELF

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer.

Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette

Awayshak Khoury. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. In cluding The Ritz and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt,

Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella

has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Amat, Suhaila

Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance

Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be

seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her home

work or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she

enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance,

martial arts, gymnastics, and

playing with

her friends.

ISABELLA LOV

ES HER SELF

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

SIX: IN HER BIG HEART BIG ISABELLA TELLS LITTLE ISABELLA SHE LOVES HER SELF

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and is a third generation belly dancer. Isabella is the daughter of Suhaila Salimpour and grand daughter of prominent belly dancers Jamila Salimpour and Antoinette Awayshak Khourey. Her roots in Middle Eastern music and dance are generational on both sides. Isabella's great great grandfather was an Oud maker and both of her grandfathers were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Dr. Najeeb Khoury was a prominent Oud player and Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time she was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States. Including The Roxbury and House of Blues in Hollywood, Renaissance

IN HER BIG HEART BIG ISABELLA TELLS LITTLE ISABELLA SHE LOVES HER SELF

Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sheherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S.

Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing with her friends.

In her big heart Isabella loves her self

f i e

ISABELLA SALIMPOUR-KHOURY

SEVEN: ISABELLA IS ISABELLA

Isabella Khoury is eight years old and Isabella is the daughter of Suhla and her mother is a third generation belly dancer. Suhla Salimpour and granddaughter of prominent belly dancers Jam Awayshak Khoury. Her and dance are generational roots

Isabella Salimpour and Antoinette in Middle Eastern music great great grandfather was an Oud player and were artists of Middle Eastern Music. Ardeshir Salimpour was a Middle Eastern

drummer. Isabella began performing at the age of two while on tour with her mother. By the time Isabella was 4 years old she had performed in Japan and all across the United States, including The Roxy and House of Blues in Hollywood Renaissance Pleasure Faire, and six times at the biggest belly dance festival in the world Rakkasah. She is the first child

who has performed at the world-renowned belly dance festival in Cairo, Egypt, Ahlan Wa Sahlan. Having performed in Belgium, France and Canada Isabella

has also been a feature performer with the Belly Dance Superstars produced by Miles Copeland, Suhaila Salimpour's Sherezade, Bal Anat, Suhaila

Dance Company, and a feature solo performance on the Belly dance Fitness Fusion Series produced by Natural Journey's and can be seen on PBS and all the major retail stores across the U.S. Isabella is in 3rd grade and when not doing her homework or a student at the San Francisco Ballet school, she enjoys jazz, hip hop, tap, belly dance, martial arts, gymnastics, and playing video games.

th her friends
ISABELLA IS HER SELF

NOTES:

<http://www.suhailadancecompany.com/>

<http://www.suhailaschool.com/Isabella/PhotoGallery.htm>