1. For almost a few good years we actualized a fine working relationship of extensive anxiety straw. Then a win [d] of peace came and then it blew it away. 2. But not us:

For a few years we built our relationship of anger wood and then two weeks of good cheer came and then it got knocked down. 3. Not us: For a few sizzling moments we built a subtle relationship of, hot, wet, the more you have the more you get, give it to me love juice and then a profound rest beyond all understanding came and so did we.
